

Professional experience

Shwetank Verma is the co-founder of Leo Capital, a venture capital fund investing in companies in India and South East Asia. Recent investments include CoLearn (edtech), WayForward (mental health), CoverGenius (Insurtech) and IndiaGold (Digital Gold). Leo Capital is backed by institutional investors from Singapore and Silicon Valley.

Prior to Leo Capital, he led Open Innovation for MetLife Asia and was a part of the senior management team of LumenLab, MetLife's innovation consultancy. At LumenLab, he advised MetLife country CEOs and senior leaders on growth, startup collaboration, culture change and new product development.

Prior to joining MetLife, he was a serial entrepreneur in healthcare and education in India. He serves as Innovation Adviser to the Institute of Innovation and Entrepreneurship at the Singapore Management University.

He is also a fellow of the Institute of Chartered Accountants England and Wales and holds a Bachelor of Science in Economics and Econometrics from the University of Nottingham (UK), where he was a Foreign and Commonwealth Office scholar.

